18th EDITION

The first edition — conceived, edited, and published by Wayte Raymond over twenty-five years ago, set the standard for this, the 18th edition, of which we are truly proud. The research, revision, and compilation, as well as careful editing has been done by John J. Ford, Jr. and Walter H. Breen assisted by five other well-known authorities on U. S. coins. This edition has been extended with many special features. CURRENT RETAIL VALUATIONS are given for all U. S. coins from 1616 to the present day.

THE STANDARD CATALOGUE

IT IS THE INCOMPARABLE CATALOGUE FOR THE ADVANCED COLLECTOR AND DEALER

Only in the Standard Catalogue is there a solution to the 1831, '36, 1840-49 and '52 Half Cent riddle, with each variety listed and priced. No other book lists all the designers of our U. S. coins; lists and prices Mint Restrikes; gives the full story of the CSA coinages; reveals the number known of many varieties; tells the number of die varieties extant of various types; explodes the "Premium List" myths, or correctly evaluates U. THIS YEAR the Marquis de Lafayette is being hailed in celebrations in many countries on the occasion of the two hundredth anniversary of his birth. Dolly Madison expressed not only her thoughts on this great man but also those of her fellow Americans in the following poem, published in Washington, D.C., April 25, 1848:

Born, nurtured, wedded, prized, within the pale
Of peers and princes, high in camp — at court —
He hears, in joyous youth, a wild report,
Swelling the murmurs of the Western gale,
Of a young people struggling to be free!
Straight quitting all, across the wave he flies,
Aids with his sword, wealth, blood, the high emprise!
And shares the glories of its victory.
Then comes for fifty years a high romance
Of toils, reverses, sufferings, in the cause
Of man and justice, liberty and France,
Crowned, at the last, with hope and wide applause.
Champion of Freedom! Well thy race was run!
All time shall hail thee, Europe's noblest son!

We offer this special number of The Numismatist as a numismatic tribute to Lafayette and dedicate it to his memory.

MELVIN AND GEORGE FULD

A paper submitted to the 1957 A. N. A. convention

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The list of Lafayette medals that follows was assembled with the gracious assistance of several individuals and organizations, who have helped to make this list as complete as possible. The American Numismatic Society and its curator of medals, Henry Grunthal, kindly listed pieces in its collection, loaned some of the rarer French references and supplied photographs of many of its pieces. We are sincerely indebted to Jean Babelon, Chief Curator of Medals of the Bibliothèque Nationale of Paris, for supplying us with a list of Lafayette medals in the Cabinet Médailles. We are also indebted to Max M. Schwartz and Lionel Rudduck for the loan of several medals.

Eric P. Newman kindly supplied us with a transcribed list of the medals in the famous Brand collection, from Brand's original notebook catalog. Louis Schwartz kindly supplied us with a photograph of an unusual specimen in his collection.

Many of the dealers in France and Belgium kindly supplied us with many unlisted Lafayette medals. We are indebted to Paul Tinchant, Marcel Platt, Jules Florange, Emile Bourgey, J. Vinchon and Etienne Page for their continuing cooperation. We are also indebted to Mrs. George Fuld for her assistance in the translation and typing.

We wish especially to acknowledge our indebtedness to the Institut Français de Washington, the Johns Hopkins University Press of Baltimore, Oxford University Press of London, and Charles Florange of Paris for permission to quote from and use material found in Dr. Paul Olivier's Iconographie métallique de général Lafayette published in 1933.

The authors are completely responsible for any errors, omissions or misrepresentations in the listing. We will be sincerely indebted to anyone pointing out errors or noting new pieces.

INTRODUCTION

THE MARQUIS de Lafayette was undoubtedly one of the most outstanding men of his time, and clearly the most beloved of all foreign citizens to the American people. A short summary of his contributions in behalf of liberty loving Americans and Frenchmen, will help illustrate why and when many of the medals in the following list were issued.

Marie Joseph Paul Yves Roch Gilbert du Motier Lafayette was born at the Château of Chavaniac in Auvergne on Sept. 6, 1757, this being the two hundredth anniversary of his birth. His family dated from the thirteenth century as one branch of the Motier family. His father was killed at Minden in 1759, and at the age of 13 he became an orphan with a princely fortune. At 16 he married Marie Adrienne Françoise de Noailles.

Lafayette entered the Guards and was a captain of dragoons when the English colonies in America proclaimed their independence. He afterwards stated in his memoirs "at the first news of this quarrel my heart was enrolled in it." Through the efforts of Silas Deane, American agent in Paris, on Dec. 7, 1776 arrangements were made for Lafayette to enroll in the American army as a major general. However, the news of grave disasters to American arms alarmed his friends who urged him to remain in France. Even Franklin and Arthur Lee, the American envoys urged him to remain, and the king himself forbade his leaving. At the insistence of the British ambassador at Versailles, the ship Lafayette was fitting at Bordeaux was seized and the young marquis arrested. The ship, however, was sent to a port in Spain, and Lafayette escaped in disguise, landed in Georgetown, S. C. and presented himself at Philadelphia.

This young lad of 19, with only the barest knowledge of English, presented himself to Congress, with Deane's authority to request a commission of the highest rank after the commander-in-chief. He immediately realized the difficulties involved and offered to serve as a volunteer. On July 31, 1777 Congress passed a resolution that his services be accepted, and that, in consideration of his zeal, illustrious family and connections, he have the rank and commission of an American major general. The next day he met Washington and became his lifelong friend. His first battle was at Brandywine on September 11, where he was wounded. Soon thereafter, he secured what he most desired, the command of a division. Though the commander of a division, he never had many troops in his charge. In the early months of 1778 he commanded troops in preparation for the expedition against Canada. His retreat from Barren Hill (May 28, 1778) was commended as masterly, and he fought at the battle of Monmouth (June 28), and received formal recognition of his services from Congress.

On the signing of the treaties of commerce and defensive alliance between America and France, on Feb. 6, 1778, and the immediate declaration of war by England against the latter, Lafayette asked leave to revisit France and consult his king as to the further direction of services. He was received with enthusiasm and made a colonel in the French cavalry on Jan. 11, 1779.

He was absent from America for about six months, and on his return he served in his last battle in this country, that of Yorktown. His return to France occasioned his participation in the planning of an expedition to the British West Indies, but this was terminated by the treaty of Jan. 20, 1783. He had been promoted in 1781 to the rank of maréchal de camp (brigadier general) in the French army. His next visit to the United States was in 1784 as guest of the nation.

He took his seat in the French Assembly of Notables in 1787, and he alone demanded, and he alone signed the demand, that the king convoke the states general, making him a leader of the French revolution. In 1789 he was elected to the states general. He was chosen vice president of the National Assembly, and on July 11, 1789, presented a declaration of rights modeled on Jefferson's declaration of 1776. On July 15, the second day of the new regime, he was acclaimed colonel general of the new National Guard of Paris. He proposed the combination of the colors of Paris, red and blue, and the royal white, into the tricolor cockade. His history, for the succeeding three years until the end of the constitutional monarchy in 1792, is largely the history of France.

In the Constituent Assembly he pleaded for abolition of arbitrary imprisonment, for religious tolerance, for establishment of trial by jury, for freedom of the press, for popular representation, for gradual emancipation of slaves, for abolition of titles of nobility, and suppression of privileged orders. He refused supreme command of the National Guard in Feb., 1790, and took a prominent part in the first celebration of Bastille day on July 14, 1790. After suppressing an émeute (insurrection), he resigned in April, 1791 but was compelled to retain his commission. On the occasion of the proclamation of the constitution on Sept. 18, 1791 he retired to private life.

When an attack was planned against Austria, Lafayette was placed in command of one of the three armies. He opposed further advance of the Jacobean party, intending eventually to use his army for the restoration of a limited monarchy. On Aug. 19, 1792, the Assembly declared him a traitor. He fled to Liège, where as a prime mover of the revolution he was imprisoned for five years, first in Prussia and afterwards in Austrian prisons. Napoleon stipulated his release in the treaty of Campo Formio (1797). He returned to France in 1799; in 1802 he voted against the life consulate of Napoleon; and in 1804 he voted against the imperial title. He lived in retirement during the first empire, but returned to public life during the first restoration, being especially active during the Hundred Days. From 1818 to 1824 he was deputy for the Sarthe, speaking and voting always on the liberal side. He revisited America from July, 1824, to September, 1825, where he was overwhelmed with popular applause and voted the sum of $200,000 and a grant of land. From 1825 to his death he sat in the Chamber of Deputies. During the revolution of 1830 he again took command of the National Guard. He made his last speech — on behalf of Polish refugees — in 1834. He died at Paris on May 20, 1834.

This short recitation of Lafayette's life closely parallels issuance of medals in his honor, starting in France in 1790. This series is noteworthy in that perhaps 70% of the medals known were issued during Lafayette's lifetime. Since most of the medals commemorating Lafayette bear definite dates, they have been arranged in chronological order where possible, paralleling most of the French authors on this subject. A good representation of Lafayette medals is available in the French numismatic literature starting in 1806, and are generally included with the series of medals on the French revolution. The latest French volume, and the most complete, is the volume by Dr. P. Olivier published in 1933 and listing some 143 pieces. However, all French literature is incomplete in regard to the many medals issued in the United States commemorating Lafayette. The only noteworthy contribution to this phase of medallic history in American numismatic literature is the article by William S. Appleton, published in 1871, eventually listing some 39 medals. The present listing comprises all pieces that have been traced to date, consisting of over 200 medals. Undoubtedly there are many omissions.

Although these medals have been woefully neglected by American numismatists, they do not lack in beauty, history or artistry of execution. Some of the famous medalists who engraved these medals were Montagny, Susse, Dumarest, Duvivier, Liénard, Halliday, Wright, Bale, Caunois, Brasseur, Pingret, LeClerc, Oleszczinski, Rogat, D. C. French, Lavrillier, Delannoy, David, and numerous others.

The beauty of many of them can only be appreciated by seeing the actual pieces, however, the illustrations show some of the more outstanding pieces. Particular note should be made of the Polish medal (LA.1834.2), the Paris Guard pieces (LA.1790.1 and LA.1790.9), the Brandywine piece (LA.1825.1) and others too numerous to mention.

Some of the series are quite unusual, such as the National Guard pieces by Pingret consisting of at least 25 different varieties (LA.1830.17 through LA.1830.41). The series of small medals issued during 1830 comprises an unusual set being about the size of a U. S. half dime, some of the smallest commemorative medals known (LA.1830.49 through LA.1830.60) with scattered others of similar size.

Many of the medals are extremely rare, outstanding among them being the Brasseux piece of 1830 (LA-1830.5), and the Wright medal (LA-1824.8) of which only a few are known. The Polish medal (LA-1834.2) in bronze was noted as unique in the McCoy sale of 1864 and the Mickley sale of 1867, but the authors have seen at least four different pieces. The Polish medal in silver is apparently unique and dates from the W.W.C. Wilson sale (1916).

From the point of view of valuation, the Lafayette medals are far under priced when compared to similar pieces such as Washington and Franklin medals. However, several pieces have high auction records. The Polish medal in bronze sold for upwards of $20.00 in the 1860s, while the silver one holds a record of $52.00. The most highly touted piece is one that was struck on U. S. half dollars (a "so-called" commemorative half dollar), which recently sold for $625.00 (LA.1824.12).

The larger collections of Lafayette medals known to the authors are those in the American Numismatic Society (the location of which is given by the abbreviation ANS) of 44 pieces, the Cabinet Médailles (C.M.) of 27 pieces, the Appleton collection in the Massachusetts Historical Society of over 40 pieces, the Brand collection of 15 pieces and the authors' cabinet of over 150 pieces. Undoubtedly other fine collections exist in both this country and France, but their whereabouts are not known. Olivier noted the placement of many of the pieces, in both private collections and museums, and these notes are repeated where fitting in the listing.

No differentiation was made in the list between medals and tokens, since there were so few of the latter. The Masonic mark chapter pennies are the major tokens and are listed in the undated series (L.A.M.). As previously stated, this series best lent itself to a chronological listing, and this has been followed where possible. This is a more natural listing than an alphabetical list by issuer or organization. Where the date is reasonably certain within a year or two, a guess as to the date of issue was made, however in the case where this was not possible they were placed in the undated series (L.A.M.). Pieces for any year are arranged in decreasing order of size using the American system of sixteenths. Since this reasonably closely follows both Olivier's and Appleton's listings, a cross index was not felt necessary.

The inclusion and exclusion of several pieces may be controversial. All pieces either mentioning Lafayette by name or showing his portrait are included. Two so-called decorations, listed by Olivier as No. 1 and No. 2 in his list were excluded since they do not directly mention Lafayette, although one was presented to him. The inclusion of one piece, a Civil War token (LA.1863.1), is somewhat controversial. It carries on the headband of the Indian FORT LAFAYE and because of this its inclusion was justified.

Several of the pieces listed belong in overlapping series, bearing either portraits of Washington, Franklin or both. References to other listings of the latter pieces are made where possible.

The undated medals are arranged under the heading L.A.M. starting with No. 1 in order of decreasing size. The pieces that are clearly uniface medallions are likewise arranged in order of decreasing size starting with the No. 1 under the heading L.A.M.E.

The pieces are listed with all available references using the abbreviations shown in the bibliography. The auction sale listings were not meant to be complete, but only a sampling, as some of the more common pieces occur in dozens of sales. Where the words "à belière" are added to the metal list, this merely means that the medal normally has a loop or ring attached to it.

Notes & Queries

New Paper Money Has Motto

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing of the Treasury Department began printing a new series of one dollar notes, bearing the inscription "In God We Trust" on July 25. The notes will be placed in circulation beginning October 1.

An act of Congress approved by the President on July 11, 1955, provided that the inscription, long shown on coins, should become a part of the design of United States paper currency. It was agreed that the changes should be made in connection with the installation in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing of new high-speed rotary intaglio presses, using the dry-print method and producing 32 notes to the sheet. Older presses have been limited to wet-process printing, in sheets of only 18 notes each. Two of the new high-speed presses have now been installed and are in operation. Six more are to be added.

The inscription "In God We Trust" on the new one dollar notes appears just above the large word ONE on the reverse of the notes, which are silver certificates. It has not yet been determined when other denominations bearing the inscription will be produced.

The signature of Robert B. Anderson, who became Secretary of the Treasury on July 29, upon the resignation of Secretary George Humphrey, appears on the new notes. Treasury officials explained that placing of the notes in circulation would have to be delayed until October to permit the production of an adequate supply for all sections of the country. Secretary Humphrey and Secretary-designate Anderson visited the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, together, and watched the first sheets of the new currency come off the new presses.

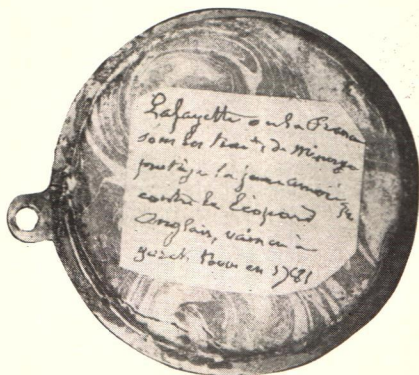

Can You Identify This Medal?

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

This medal, which consists of the reverse of the famous Libertas Americana medal, might have been presented to General Lafayette. The medal is struck as a uniface in tin or white metal and encased in an ornate frame of the same material giving an over-all size of 31.

On the smooth back of the medal, a slip of paper is attached with a hand written inscription that appears near contemporary (circa 1781). The inscription apparently reads as follows, with (?) after the partially illegible words: "Lafayette ou la France / som (?) la (?) traite la Minerva / protégé la jeune American (?) contre le Leopard / Anglais, vaincu à Yorktown en 1781."

Perhaps a reader can decode this inscription so that a proper attribution can be made. We would be sincerely indebted for information.

LAFAYETTE PORTRAYED ON PAPER MONEY

By

GLENN B. SMEDLEY, LM 296

The Marquis de Lafayette, whose two hundredth birth anniversary is being observed this year, attained more popularity in America than many of its own citizens who rendered important services in the War of Independence and the formation of the new nation. Probably no other person ever enjoyed the degree of popularity in both his native country and in the United States, both during and after his lifetime, than was bestowed upon Lafayette. His approbation in America is the more exceptional when it is considered that he spent only four and a half years here, in four separate trips from his native France.

This proof note of the Chemical Bank is in the New York Historical Society. The full length figure of Lafayette is signed by A. B. Durand, one of the greatest of the early American engravers.

His services during the Revolution were without compensation, besides which it is estimated that he spent in excess of $200,000 from his personal fortune in assisting the colonies. Congress invited him to revisit the United States in 1824 and showed the country's gratitude for his aid by voting him a sum of money, and a township of land located in Louisiana.

Another, although unofficial, evidence of Lafayette's popularity is the fact that he was depicted on the

Reports of Club Meetings

SECRETARIES PLEASE NOTE: Reports should be made promptly. Copy must be received by the 4th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue. Sometimes a carbon copy of the minutes is sent in, and almost invariably a number of items of local concern only must be cancelled. The justification for publishing these accounts lies in the numismatic information — and encouragement — to be derived by collectors generally, regardless of location. On this basis we feel it advisable to revise and condense, and, incidentally, the by-product of this course is conservation of valuable space. All copy should be typewritten, double-spaced, and written on one side of the paper only. Please condense your reports and write them so they conform to the style of those printed below. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

OKLAHOMA CITY COIN CLUB — 213th meeting called to order by Pres. John Dunn, 28 present, July 23rd, First National Bank. M. C. Sauer spoke on trading coins, an extension of his paper which appeared in the July Numismatist. His enlargements on the published account were educational and amusing giving many members a new view on the coin trading situation in the country today.

Exhibits:

P. K. Anderson: 12 proclamation medals of the Spanish kings struck in the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. These pieces have often been the cause of much discussion by numismatists especially in regard as to whether or not they can be considered coins. Initially they were struck primarily by local governments, cities, churches, trade guilds, and even individuals to commemorate the accession of a king. Classically they had a bust of the king on the obverse and either arms, badges or mythical figures (Hercules, etc.) on the reverse coupled with an inscription praising the new king. Some also had denomination marks usually in the amount of 2 reales (2R) although they have been found with marks for ½, 1, 4 and 8 reals. On this basis, plus the fact that it is known that they circulated as coins after they were distributed, Mr. Anderson classes them as coins, not medals. Since they were distributed without charge by the strikers, there are very few gold specimens known. In a few cases, even bronze ones were issued but in general they were struck in silver. They are always dated as of the first year of the king's reign when struck in Spain and as late as two years afterwards on colonial pieces due to the slowness of communication.

Mr. Brown: Silver presidential medal of Pres. Eisenhower.

W. Coleman: 1863 Civil War token (Talbot & Co.) issued in Barnesville, Ohio, and a 1907-1957 Oklahoma medal.

John Dunn: 1944 dime (thick planchet) and 1954 dime with a very thick planchet.

Claude Farwell: A "wooden gulden" issued by Holland, Mich.

J. Lhotka: Athenian tetradrachms of the sixth, fifth and fourth centuries B.C., showing changes in the styles of the helmet of Athena and the type of the reverse owl.

Miss McKee: 10c Hong Kong piece of George VI.

R. Osborne: A token or medal struck by the Osage nation in Oklahoma commemorating the Oklahoma 50 years of statehood bearing the likeness of Osage chief Paul Pitts.

M. C. Sauer: Complete type sets of quarter, half and full dollars, all coins obtained by trading.

L. Smith: Complete South Africa set for 1952 in case.

J. Sureck: All of the various medals and tokens struck to commemorate the 50th year of Oklahoma statehood.

H. Zeigler: Mounted set of U.S. 2c pieces.

L. Clark: Bronze French token bearing a "baby head" and the name HENRI on the obverse and a heart and cross design with the legend (in French) "God and King" on the reverse. It was probably issued by one of the pretenders to the French throne. Any opinions as to its exact origin would be appreciated.

S. Butler: Guatemala ¼ real in silver, Prussian one mark in silver.

Mrs. Butler: Civil War token, minor Russian piece.

— J. LHOTKA

RICHMOND COIN CLUB — Called to order by Vice President Raymond Owen. Elliott Thacker, our guest speaker has been with the U.S. Secret Service for 24 years. He gave a very interesting talk about the operations of counterfeiters and the services of the Secret Service. There are millions of dollars of counterfeit bills made each year, but many thousands of dollars found before they are put into circulation. Counterfeiting is the oldest crime there is.

UNITED STATES SILVER DOLLARS—ALL UNCIRCULATED

These are today's best buys when all other coins are very high in price. Many are far older and far rarer than Lincoln Cents, but still selling Unc. for double face. What Lincoln Cents can you buy for double face, or any other coin for that matter. Better buy while the price is still low. These have light mars, as all dollars seem to, but are all carefully selected copies. Maybe a few Cents higher, but worth it.

I am constantly buying and selling choice CROWNS and other looked-for items. I find very attractive — maybe you do too. Once in a while a stray gold piece or a nice chunk of proof copper will attract my eye and my checkbook. Right now I am preparing a top-notch Mail Auction Catalog covering the SILVER DOLLARS OF INDEPENDENT MEXICO.

It will be out in the fall. If you want a copy, let me know. The prices realized are $1.00 before the sale — they'll be $2.50 afterwards.

MODERN FOREIGN COINS

A full page advertisement might tell you something about my stock, but I would rather send you my price list where you can see the "whole works" for yourself.

These lists contain something of interest to nearly any collector of foreign coins — lots of minor (my specialty), some crowns, a few foreign banknotes, and a lot of other new and recent items.

I think you will find it interesting, and if not seen before, you may gain some insight into what a good stock is like. As long as you can see it by sending a postal card, what can you lose? I'll be glad to hear from you.
